

The 9 Ball Flights

Clubface alignment and the path on which the club travels relative to the target line can combine to create the nine ball flights shown here. The angle at which the club approaches the ball helps determine trajectory, and the speed of the club at impact determines distance.

